When the “World Ag Expo” began in 1968 at the Tulare (California) County Fairgrounds, it featured over 150 exhibitors and over 28,000 attendees. Since then, the three-day event has grown to cover 2.6 million square feet at the International Agri-Center in Tulare, and averages over 100,000 attendees to view displays from over 1,600 exhibitors each year. Statistics like these make the “World Ag Expo” the world’s largest annual Agriculture Exposition, and this year, TK Motorsports is there.

With drivers Kody & Tanner Swanson, who each served as their High School FFA Chapter President and received their American FFA Degrees, TK Motorsports and the Swanson brothers have been a great fit to promote the value of Agriculture Education beyond the role of farming and to occupations as extreme as professional racecar driving. Their role at this year’s “World Ag Expo” has included the display of the TK Motorsports #17 USAC Pavement Sprint Car, which set a “New Track Record” in its last outing at Toyota Speedway in Irwindale, California, as well as being on site to visit with attendees and exhibitors. The brothers will be on hand to answer questions and tell their story tomorrow and Thursday at the Expo, next to their car on display at the World Ag Expo Registration Center at the corner of Median & J Streets, booth J30.

Race fans and Agriculturalists alike, come on out to the International Agri-Center in Tulare to check out the TK Motorsports Sprint Car on display and see just what the “World Ag Expo” has to offer!
